

THREE HUNDRED ARE EXPECTED TO ATTEND BANKERS MEETING

Bankers and Their Families From Two Congressional Districts To Meet in Maysville on Wednesday—Big Reception Is Planned.

Bankers from all over the Sixth and Ninth Congressional districts with members of their families are expected in Maysville Wednesday of this week to attend the combined meeting of the Sixth and Ninth groups of the Kentucky Bankers' Association which will open at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the pavilion in Beechwood Park.

Besides the transaction of business, the feature of the morning meeting will be an address by Judge Robert W. Bangham, editor and publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times and head of the Co-Operative Burley Tobacco Marketing Committee. Judge Bingham comes to Maysville to explain in detail his proposed plan for the salvation of the tobacco growers of Kentucky to the bankers here assembled. The plan has been explained to the bankers of several sections of Kentucky and has always been heartily endorsed by the financial interests of the state.

At noon the Maysville bankers will entertain with a dinner and during the afternoon besides the completion of business a social session will be held. The Maysville Boys' Band will make music during the day.

Among the most interesting features of this year's meeting will be the awarding of prizes offered for the bank clerks of the two districts who give the best answers to a question submitted several weeks ago. The question submitted is: "In your opinion, what would be the best investment for a widow, resident of Kentucky, whose entire estate is $25,000 in money? In what would you invest this; and the reasons?" Prizes of $50, $25, $15 and $10 are offered for the four best answers to the question.

COUNTY COURT DAY.
County Court day has attracted a good sized crowd to Maysville and the trading seems to be quite lively. Politics seems to have the center of the stage, however, in most every group on the streets.

Last day for discount of June 1st gas bills.

CITY TAX LEVY WILL BE REDUCED FIVE CENTS

Ways and Means Committee of Council Will Recommend a Reduction of Five Cents in Tax Levy for Year.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Maysville City Council will hold a special conference this afternoon at which time they will reach a final decision on their recommendation for the 1921-22 tax levy which will be adopted by City Council at the regular June meeting Monday evening.

It is learned from authoritative sources that the Ways and Means Committee is now of the opinion that they will be enabled to recommend a five cent reduction in the levy for this year, bringing the levy back to $1.50, the old figure at which it has stood for several years prior to this year.

The committee figures that there will be a considerable saving of funds during the next fiscal year which will permit them to reduce the burden of the tax payer. The estimates which have been presented to the committee show a disposition on the part of practically every city department to cut their expenses as closely as possible during the year.

PRESBYTERIAN CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM DELIGHTFUL

The Children's Day program rendered by the children of the Presbyterian church Sunday evening was a most delightful affair. The entertainment took the form of a pageant in which foreigners coming to America plead with Miss America to give them the Christian religion in America among the foreign districts. It was clearly shown that while thousands of dollars are sent to foreign mission fields annually for mission work, there are thousands of foreigners who come to America and remain here for years without hearing of the Christ. Every child who took part was good and the smoothness of the program reflected much credit upon those who trained the youngsters.

DAIRY EXPERT HERE.
Mr. Barkman, dairy expert of the State Experiment Station, is spending the day in Mason county and will make certain investigations of the proposed creamery at Dover for the Adina Farms.

NOTICE.
No fishing allowed on my farm, as I have stocked pond with fish.

ANNUAL LITERARY CONTEST IS TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Adephic and Atheneum Literary Societies of the Maysville High School To Hold Annual Contest at Auditorium Wednesday.

The annual contest between the two literary societies of the Maysville High School will be held in the High School auditorium on Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. This is one of the most interesting of the closing day programs and it is expected that this year there will be many in attendance.

The program for the evening is announced this afternoon as follows: Music—High School Orchestra. Oratorical Contest—"When a Man's a Man," Albert Knox, President Adephic. "Dividends," Robert Power, President Atheneum.

Paper Contest—Athenaeum Chronicle, Nan Chenault; Adephic Review, Harriett Glascock.

Solo—"The Garden of My Heart," William Smith, Adephic.

Debate—"Resolved that the United States Must Eventually Fight Japan," affirmative, Atheneum; Robert Caplinger and William Rice; negative Adephic; Mildred Proctor and Church Matthews.

Solo—"A Dream," Elexite Russell, Atheneum.

Declamatory Contest—"The Portrait," Betty Barber, Atheneum; "The Killing of Dan McGrew," Joe Wadsworth, Adephic. Music—High School Orchestra. Decision of Judges.

HEFLIN-HAUCKE

Miss Jennie Heflin becomes the bride of Mr. Frank Haucke at Newport Monday—Will Make Home Here.

The many friends of Miss Jennie Heflin and Mr. Frank Haucke will be surprised to learn of their quiet marriage in Newport Monday. Only a few of the very closest friends were advised in advance of the plans of the couple. After a short wedding trip, a part of which will be spent in Indianapolis, they will return to Maysville to make this city their home.

The bride and groom are both among Maysville's most popular young people. Both have been identified with the city's business interests for several years and have been thrown with the public. They are both popular in a very large circle of friends and the wedding is the culmination of a pretty courtship of several years.

Their great host of friends join the Public Ledger in extending the heartiest of congratulations and wishing for them much happiness through a long life.

BODY OF ANOTHER WORLD WAR HERO COMING HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yazell received a telegram Sunday from the War Department informing them that the body of their son, Sergeant Robert W. Yazell who was killed in action in 1918 in France, would arrive in Maysville on Tuesday evening of this week. The funeral will be held from the Forest Avenue M. E. church under the auspices of the Leslie H. Arthur Post American Legion and burial will be made in the Mt. Carmel cemetery. Mrs. Ben P. Fleming and Mr. Headley Yazell, of this city, are sister and brother of the deceased soldier.

LOCAL MAN GRADUATES FROM OHIO WESLEYAN.

The Public Ledger is in receipt of an invitation to the commencement exercises of Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware, Ohio, and notices that among the members of the graduating class is Mr. Howell Richardson, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Richardson, of East Second street, and a graduate of the Maysville High School.

CATHOLIC MEMORIAL DAY CELEBRATED SUNDAY.

Sunday was celebrated at Catholic Memorial day at St. Patrick's cemetery and there were many in attendance. The beautiful cemetery was never more attractive and the address by Rev. Father Antonine, of Cincinnati, was a beautiful tribute.

POLITICIANS GET IN BIG DAY'S WORK.

Politicians got in a full day's work Monday. It being County Court day, there were many in the city and practically all of the politicians were on hand early and remained until late. The politicians are enabled to see more people on County Court day than at most any other time.

Maysville Specials were defeated in a hard fought contest Sunday by Oakwood. Score 9 to 8, eleven innings. The specials will play Tolleboro next Sunday at Tolleboro.

LOCAL DISTILLERY SOLD TO CINCINNATI CAPITALISTS

Famous Limestone Distillery and J. H. Rogers & Company's Whisky Holdings Are Purchased.

Samuel Friedman and other Cincinnati capitalists purchased on Saturday the Limestone distillery plant located just west of Maysville and the extensive stock of whisky owned in the government bonded warehouses there by J. H. Rogers and Company. It is understood that the transaction which had been under negotiation for several weeks involved something over one hundred thousand dollars.

It is understood that the liquor will be bottled as soon as possible and removed and the plant will be used for the manufacture of whiskey for medicinal use.

The Limestone distillery has been operated for years and the brand manufactured there was known the world around.

MAYOR FILES COMPLAINT WITH L. & N. PRESIDENT.

For some time much complaint has been lodged with Mayor Thomas M. Russell about the manner in which the passenger trains on the Maysville division of the L. & N. railroad are made-up. The passenger coach is placed next to the engine while the baggage car is carried on the rear of the train. This means that during this warm weather when it is necessary to have the coach windows opened, the passengers get all the smoke and chinders from the engine and in passing through the tunnels the passengers are blackened. Mayor Russell Sunday wired to the president of the L. & N. lodging formal complaint and will take the matter up with him in more detail in an effort to have these arrangements changed at once for the benefit of the traveling public.

PORTER—WADSWORTH.

Mr. John Gray Wadsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wadsworth, and Miss Ivah Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Porter, of Liberty, Ind., were married quietly on last Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents. The happy young couple are now at home at the beautiful Wadsworth home, just west of Maysville.

SHOWAN PROPERTY IS NOT SOLD.

The Showan home in Houston avenue which was offered for sale at public auction Saturday afternoon was withdrawn, the prices offered not being anything like satisfactory to the owner. The highest price bid was four thousand dollars.

MAYSVILLE DEFEATS GERMANTOWN.

Maysville defeated Germantown at baseball on the local diamonds Sunday afternoon by a score of 12 to 1. There was probably the largest attendance of the season at the game.

FARMERS CONFER ON CO-OPERATIVE SHIPPING.

Quite a number of Mason county farmers with an expert on marketing from the State Experiment Station, discussed co-operative shipping of live stock at the Farm Bureau Monday afternoon.

The Maysville Shamrocks defeated the Shannon Regulars at Shannon Sunday afternoon by a score of 11 to 10.

SEVERAL TEACHERS ELECTED AT MEET OF COUNTY SCHOOL MEN

County Board of Education Elects Teachers But Several Vacancies Still Remain To Be Filled For Next Year.

At a very important meeting of the Mason County Board of Education held Monday morning at the office of County Superintendent George H. Turnipseed at the court house nothing but routine business was transacted except that vacancies in the teaching force were filled in some instances but several important places still remain unfilled.

Prof. E. E. Pfanstiel, of Bracken county, former County Judge of that county, was elected as principal of the Minerva High School to succeed Prof. R. Y. Maxey, who was not an applicant for re-election. Other vacancies filled follow:

Mayslick—Beulah Lowe. Lebron—May Schlitz. Pleasant Ridge—Lida Kirkland. Sunrise—Florence Dotson. Key—Jennie D. Roe. Oakwoods—Amanda McDaniel. Bernard—Agnes Guilfoyle. Dickson—Mrs. Roanoke Bierley. Mt. Gilead—Mary Wood. Springdale—Alma Hunt.

The county lost one of its best school teachers Monday in the resignation of Prof. Charles E. Turnipseed, brother of the Superintendent, who had been elected principal of the Rectortville High School this year. Prof. Turnipseed resigns to accept the position of Principal of the new Tolleboro High School and the vacancy at Rectortville has not yet been filled.

YOUNG WOMEN MEET THIS EVENING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. D. H. Harrison at her home in East Second street.

Mrs. J. R. Devine and daughter, Miss Helen, of Lexington, are visiting relatives in the city.

DR. CONDIT MADE PASTOR EMERITUS AFTER 55 YEARS

Pastor of the Ashland Presbyterian Church, Born Near Maysville, Retired as Emeritus Pastor.

Records for continuous service in the pulpit in the Presbyterian church and possibly in America, were shattered by Dr. William C. Condit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Ashland since the third Sunday in June, 1866, who retired Sunday night to be pastor emeritus of the church which he has served fifty-five years.

Sunday night's sermon was preached by the Reverend Gene F. Miller, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Ashland, who left Monday for Indianapolis, to accept the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian church in that city.

Following the conclusion of the church service, the venerable pastor, Dr. Condit, held an informal reception in the vestibule of the church, when his parishioners, some of whom had served under his ministry for a half century, wrung his hand to bid him goodspeed in his new post.

Dr. Condit's record as pastor of the Ashland church is coincident with the history of the portion of the Ohio valley lying between Guyandotte and Greenup.

In 1866, before the Civil War was well over, Dr. Condit, fresh from somnary, was sent by the presbytery of Kentucky to the little hamlet known then as Poague settlement, now Ashland. Dr. Condit gathered about him a congregation of fifty persons. The present congregation numbers about six hundred.

Dr. Condit was born near Maysville, in 1841, and he has many warm personal friends here.

SPECIAL MASONIC NOTICE.

Special communication of Maysville Lodge No. 52, F. & A. M., Monday evening at 7:30, work in E. A. degree. All members requested to be present. C. G. GAULT, W. M. C. P. RASP, Secretary.

BANKS CLOSE WEDNESDAY.

All banks in this county will close at 10:30 Wednesday morning to attend the bankers' convention.

PUEBLO FACES MOST SERIOUS OF CONDITIONS

Hunger and Thirst Now Menace Victims of Flood Stricken Central Colorado Towns.

Pueblo, Colo., June 6.—In the midst of the havoc caused by the most disastrous flood in the history of the West, Central Colorado is forced to leave the work of rehabilitation to outside forces, every effort here being directed toward the alleviation of the condition of the distressed and homeless victims of the waters.

While no accurate estimate of the loss of life or of the extent of property damage is possible, there is well grounded fear that the broad estimate of hundreds dead and a property loss exceeding $10,000,000 are not exaggerations. The number of bodies recovered is placed at 100 by the Red Cross. The number of persons in temporary hospitals is estimated at 500 by J. E. Moorehead, secretary to Governor Shoup. Typhoid, pneumonia, diphtheria and one or two cases of insanity were found among these patients.

The wabouth of railway lines leading to the stricken area has created a menacing situation. Food supplies in Pueblo are estimated by Red Cross officials as being less than sufficient for three days. Roads to the city are impassable for miles around. Efforts are being made to transport food from surrounding towns by airplane. Several machines have already been sent out with blankets and medical supplies. The only drinking water available today is from a spring on a hill at the outskirts of the city.

Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis and other large cities closest the flooded area have offered material aid immediately, but are unable to get their offerings to the community because of the demoralized transportation conditions.

Mrs. Clarence Elmore and family, of Forest avenue, spent the week-end with relatives at Richmond and attended the Odd Fellows' annual Memorial Day exercises.

HARVEY LAYS LAST ROD ON LEAGUE GRAVE.

"Probably no event has so signalized the return of Americanism in our Government as the speech of Ambassador Harvey on the occasion of his welcome by the British Premier and other high English officials," declared the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Pledges of American sacrifices for European rehabilitation, which featured utterances of members of the former administration, were quite lacking from Mr. Harvey's remarks. Far from apologizing for the fact that he is a representative of the United States, he gloried in it. 'Precisely as your Ambassador went to Washington as an unalloyed Briton, I come to London as an unalloyed American.' No less a person than the President of the United States went abroad two years ago, and conducted himself more as a citizen of the world than specifically of America. America's rights and sovereignty were bartered away in an attempt to save the Old World from disaster she had brought upon herself. Those rights now are in the keeping of a President and his London representative who do not hesitate to tell Europe that they are objects of their first concern."

"Col. Harvey's declaration of the motives that inspired America to send her soldiers across the water rings with the Americanism that is found throughout his address. 'Far more prevalent until recently was the impression that we went to war to rescue humanity from all kinds of menacing perils,' said the Ambassador in recollection of the beautiful idealisms uttered so frequently by the former President. 'Not a few remain convinced,' he continued, 'that we sent our young soldiers across to save this Kingdom, France, and Italy. That is not the fact. We sent them solely to save the United States of America, and most reluctantly and laggardly at that.'

"Let us go back for a moment and compare that sturdy language with the sickening sentimentality that has gone before. On Memorial Day, 1919, standing in Sursumus Cemetery, among the graves of thousands of American soldiers, President Wilson uttered the following: 'Never before have men crossed the seas to a foreign land to fight for a cause of humanity which they did not pretend was particularly their own, but knew was the cause of humanity and of mankind.' Those boys knew that they went to fight for America, and their surviving comrades may glory in the fact that the present administration is not afraid to say so, even at the banquet tables in London."

"Further abandonment of the government-by-theory policy that was upon us so long was sounded by Col. Harvey when he said, 'We will get nowhere until we abruptly put aside academic discussion of theoretical proposals and manfully face, without mincing of wincing, the actual realities.' How much better off would the world be today had the peace conference at Paris confined itself to actual realities instead of wasting months in roaming through the realms of disproved theory—had attended to the business of making peace rather than attempted the reform of human passions through diplomatic decree."

"Official notice was conveyed to his hearers—that they had already learned through the press—that the United States can never enter the league of nations. 'The present government,' said Col. Harvey, 'could not, without betrayal of its creators and masters, and will not, I can assure you, have anything whatsoever to do with the league or any commission or committee appointed by it, or responsible to it, directly or indirectly, openly or furtively.'

"Respect for Col. Harvey, for President Harding, and for America rose as the Ambassador proceeded and carried the message to his hearers that the America of pre-Wilson days had returned to its own, jealous of its rights and sovereignty, but ready, in its discretion, to lend proper aid to others when the occasion may arise."

MANY TO ATTEND
CAMP ROOSEVELT
DURING THE SUMMER

Summer Camp Near Chicago Will Be Well Filled With Young Americans.

Chicago, Ill. — "Camp Roosevelt is doing a really big constructive work," announced Peter A. Mortenson, Superintendent of Chicago public schools, at a luncheon of the Executive and General Committees of the Camp Roosevelt Association held recently. "The combined military-physical educational work carried on at this summer vacation camp is a distinct contribution to sturdy American citizenship. So many requests from school superintendents throughout the country have come to my desk that I anticipate that the summer of 1921 will far exceed the past two summers in attendance at this out-door playground. It is an opportunity of which all who can should avail themselves."

With the approach of summer and the close of school, vacation becomes a paramount consideration with school boys and Camp Roosevelt offers the solution for a happy profitable summer's outing. This big enterprise, under the auspices of the Chicago Board of Education and the U. S. War Department, costs each student only $16.00 for a two-week period. This is a non-profit-making enterprise, in fact, it requires the subscription of several thousand dollars each year by public spirited men who maintain it.

Trained by regular army officers, and using regulation U. S. Army equipment, the young citizens of the republic live an exciting and interesting life full of parades, reviews, guard mounts, and other military features which appeal to young Americans. Camp Roosevelt's democracy and influence for Americanization is recognized and praised throughout the United States. The entire summer is occupied with hiking, swimming, athletics, sports, games, and all sorts of recreation. The camp is divided into three sections, summer high school, R. O. T. C., and Scoutcraft.

Enrollments are being made with substantial additions every day. Any boy twelve years or more old will have the time of his life if he goes to Camp Roosevelt this summer.

The periods begin July 3, and enrollment may be made now at the Headquarters, Room 403-650 South Clark street, Chicago.

Life Insurance, carried by King George of England, amounts to $10,000,000.

OLD ROMAN ROAD DISCOVERED.

Discovery has been made in England of another old Roman road hitherto unknown. Workmen who were digging manholes on the Alton road where the latter joins the roads to Bentley and Bordon, near Farnham, Surrey, unearthed, five feet below the surface, part of what appears to be an old Roman road that ran from London to Manchester. The road was in an excellent state of preservation, the surface layer being a foot in thickness and composed of flints. In order to penetrate the surface the workmen had to use drills and steel wedges. Research has demonstrated that not only the Romans used bituminous materials, including asphalt, but the ancient Sumerians, Persians, Babylonians, Greeks and Egyptians as well. The road discovered in England, according to engineers, was capable of carrying traffic heavier than any to which modern roads are now put.

ATTORNEYS QUIT.

New York, June 4.—Two law firms have resigned as counsel for Mrs. James A. Stillman in her husband's divorce action, and her side of the case is in complete charge of John F. Brennan, Yonkers. It was reported today.

It was believed some of the attorneys opposed Mrs. Stillman's refusal to adopt settlement of the suit.

CHINA TO BUILD WIDER ROADS.

According to reports from the Permanent International Association of Road Congresses to The Asphalt Association, New York, Hsu Shih Chang, president of the Chinese Republic, has issued an executive order providing that in carrying out the China good roads program, roads hereafter shall be wider. Roads connecting Peking with the capitals of the provinces, hereafter, will be 55 feet wide and those connecting the capitals of the provinces with the seats of the districts will be at least 33 feet wide. Road between the district seats are to be not less than twenty-seven and one-half feet wide.

KENTUCKY GUARDMEN

TO LEAVE TUG RIVER.

Frankfort, Ky., June 4.—Kentucky troops along Tug Fork in Pike county were ordered to withdraw last night by Adj. Gen. Jackson Morris. The order to Maj. Ike Wilder, Assistant Adjutant General, directed them to return to their respective stations. About 150 men from Louisa, Morehead and London have been on duty at strategic points along the river. They have been there since May 16. "There is nothing in the situation to justify the expense of keeping soldiers there any longer," General Morris said.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION FOR DAWSON SPRINGS.

Washington, June 4.—An amendment to the deficiency bill appropriating $750,000 for a government sanatorium at Dawson Springs, Ky. offered by Senator A. O. Stanley, Democrat, of Kentucky, was adopted by the Senate yesterday, along with a similar amendment by Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois, appropriating an additional $500,000 for the Speedway hospital project in Chicago.

DIOGENES may extinguish his lantern. The honest man has been found, and a taxi-driver at that! The headlines tell the story. "Taxi-driver seeks owner of $500 ring dropped in his car." His name is Abraham Hager.

A white apron around his neck and K. P. duty for a week was the sentence imposed upon George Watson, a Long Island City husband who stayed out until after midnight. Magistrate John Kochendorfer laid on this penalty as part of his ten commandments for husbands, which include helping wash the dishes and mind the children, giving the wife one night a week off, waiting on himself and getting his own meals when his wife was indisposed.

The women can run after style to their heart's content without fear of being called wasteful by David N. Moscovitch of the Associated Dress Industries of America. A few days ago L. W. Wallace of the Federation of Engineering Societies, said that changing styles results in waste. To Mr. Moscovitch this is all tommy-rot. "It is a natural and desirable trait of women to want to be attractive, and how can they be if they are dressed up in staple clothes like orphans or convicts?" he says. "It is style that creates volume of business," he says, "and gives employment to hundreds of thousands and call for huge factories." But later he adds: "Style in dress would not have a great effect on the volume of business, because a definite production of merchandise is necessary and it merely limits the number of each design."

Bessie, a five-year-old orang-outang, born in Borneo, is the newest attraction at Central Park. She was presented to the city by A. Greenwich Village couple who had tried her out as household yet six months. Already Bessie's got a "fella" — one Joey, a frisky chimpanzee from the East African Coast. At least Joey seems to think so, and vice versa, for they may be seen days lying contentedly together. The party officials and the Johnsons hope the companionship will continue, for loomsomeness is often fatal to orang-outangs, as to gorillas.

Mgr. Giuseppe L. Grivetti, secretary to the Apostolic delegate to Canada, arrived yesterday by the Lloyd Sabauder liner Pessaro, with the first passport issued by the Vatican that has been seen here by the customs officials. Mgr. Grivetti was unaware that Papi passports were unknown here. His own, a large finely executed document in Latin, issued by Cardinal Caspari, Papal Secretary of State, is vided by the British Consul-General in Rome, and shows that the bearer is on his way to Canada.

The New York flat dweller who arises in the dead of night to shy an empty milk bottle at a pair of fighting cats down in the alleyway, makes himself liable to fine and imprisonment. Ditto the housewife who throws the aforesaid m. b. in the garbage can. The milkmen have finally made the board of aldermen realize that the tremendous daily loss in milk bottles keeps up costs of milk. So the nidermen passed an ordinance making such misuse of milk bottles a misdemeanor. It likewise applies to the New York woman who used milk bottle in which to can her preserves. "But so few do any canning I think man's town," says President LaGuardia of the board of aldermen. "That not many bottles are lost to circulation in that fashion."

New York educators are aghast to learn that children of their public schools are no better spellers, nor worse, than middlewestern school kids. The hubbub is the result of the recent making public of the test put to a class of 85 high school students is the cause of it. The word was "hyvonic." There were exactly 54 misspellings of it given.

COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER RIVER
ROUTES FOR FRUIT
Fruits and Vegetables From the West
May Be Brought Through Canal to the South and Then
By River.

Seattle, Wash. — That business throughout the South will be greatly stimulated through the diversion of $20,000,000 of their crops to be shipped by all water routes, is the prediction of Pacific Coast growers of perishable food products.

The proposed waterway is from the coast, via the canal and up the Mississippi River, with Chicago as the final terminus.

For the purpose of putting this plan into operation, representatives of practically every growers organization of importance on the west coast, which have a membership of more than 10,000 farmers, met in Seattle June 1. — It is known as the All Western Committee on Water transportation.

This body will guarantee to shipline owners a sufficient tonnage to keep a fleet of vessels, properly equipped with refrigeration facilities, in service the year through.

The success of all winter shipments of deciduous fruits from the coast by way of the canal to the Atlantic seaboard and European ports, created much interest in shipping circles.

With vessels operating on regular schedule, the thickly populated sections of the South will be supplied constantly with fresh fruits and vegetables. Not only will this apply to river towns, but it is considered practicable to serve territory within a radius of from 100 to 500 miles by means of motor trucks. The committee probably will be in session several days.

PARALYTIC, 61, DROWNED
IN CREEK AS BUGGY UPSETS.

Carlisle, Ky., June 4.—Daniel Smith, Glavin, 61 years old, farmer, was drowned yesterday when his buggy overturned and rolled down a steep embankment near his home. His young grandson escaped.

Mr. Glavin was a paralytic. The boy said that when the horse became frightened and the buggy started to overturn his grandfather told him to jump.

After the accident the boy went down to the creek and pulled his grandfather part of the way out of the water, which was only a few feet deep. He then went for assistance, but on the return Mr. Glavin was dead.

UNCLE TED'S RED-TIME STORIES.

Too Powerful To Fight.

"Well, believe me, it sure made the cold shivers run up and down my back." It was Jack still talking about his trip to New York with Uncle Ted when the President was there.

"And didn't we have a good time though?" was Ruth's comment. All that day it had been all Uncle Ted could do to get her away from the store window where hundreds of dolls seemed fairly to talk to her at every corner.

"Yes, but you care more about the dolls than you did hearing President Harding talk and seeing the BIG things," retorted Jack, who was very proud of the fact that he had listened to every word the President said and shown a real interest in what was going on. He had heard that wonderful speech of the President early in the morning at the pier in Hoboken, when, with tears streaming down his face, he stood among the more than five thousand coffins containing the bodies of the soldiers who fought on the battlefields of Europe, he had called out for hope that, "It must not be again."

"Now that we are home and can sit quietly and think," said Uncle Ted, "suppose you kiddies come over here while we talk over our trip and more particularly the things said by President Harding. You know there is such a difference between the ways in various men look upon war and all the horrible things going with it. You know I was through a part of it. I didn't do much, but I saw things that will never allow me to think or act as I did before. I was glad for the privilege of helping my country as was every man who donned a uniform. For a long time, in this country, we sort of took our government and the things that went with it as a matter of course. We knew that at a certain time each year we had taxes to pay and every so often we went to the polls and voted to elect men to run the government and then we, as quickly as possible, went back to our work and proceeded to forget it while the other fellows ran the government and solved the great questions of the day.

"But the war changed that. With all its horrors it did accomplish one thing. It made men and women realize that they owe a duty to their country, a real duty. The fact that the government is something real and moving like every other big business organization suddenly dawned upon people. But there were those, even then, who said that we were 'too proud to fight,' by way of an excuse because they had failed to prepare us to meet an inevitable war.

"I could go on and on about this, but it is getting late so I must get to what President Harding said and show you, what a wonderful meaning his words convey. His speeches cannot be heard or read without making you love your country more, and without giving you greater courage to go ahead and take a part in the nation's work, a work that is even greater now than during the war. I don't care what anyone says, I believe the address of President Harding at the pier in Hoboken was the most inspiring ever delivered by a President, unless it be the Gettysburg speech of Lincoln. Kiddies, there is such a difference between a nation unprepared to meet trouble, a nation armed to the teeth and hunting trouble, and a nation powerful enough to make the rest of the world understand that it must be left alone. To me the last kind is the best and that is what Mr. Harding urged. Try to think back and see that scene, with the flag-draped coffin and I will read a part of what the President said.

"I could not wish a nation for which men are not willing to fight, and, if need be, to die, but I do wish for a nation where it is not necessary to ask that sacrifice. I do not pretend that millennial days have come, but I can believe in the possibility of a nation so righteous as never to make a war of conquest and a nation so powerful in righteousness that none will dare to invoke her wrath. I WISH FOR US SUCH AN AMERICA.

"What could be plainer than that," remarked Uncle Ted. "Mr. Harding knows that the time has not come when representatives of countries, jealous of each other's every move, and with unfair distribution of power, can sit around a table and settle the affairs of the world. He knows the day has not suddenly arrived when there will be no more war. He wants an end to war. So do I. But he knows that the way to stop it is not to let the other fellow walk all over you. 'BE PREPARED,' was the great cry of Roosevelt. How proud he would be of his country today if he could know what is being said and done. America is again taking the rightful place in the eyes of the world — a nation to be honored and respected and to be feared when its honor and rights are attacked.

"Another thing he said, listen: 'Surely we have done all that could be expected of us in carrying the burdens of others, and there is no regret, but our just concern now is for our America, because our own restoration is our first service to a world turning to us for aid and inspiration.' There is the whole thing in a nut-shell. Get on our own feet first so we can help the other fellow."

"Gee, its great to hear such talk for OUR AMERICA," was Jack's delighted comment.

TWO LIFE TERMS, UNGUARDED, FLEE

Frankfort, Ky., June 4. — Two life term prisoners at the Frankfort prison escaped while employed in shoveling coal at the Frankfort Elevator Coal Company's plant, across the river from the State Reformatory. Both are negroes.

The men, William White, Boyd county, and Jack Henderson, Oldham county, had been trustees for more than a year and had been sent to the plant to shovel coal into wagons for delivery to the Feeble-minded Institute and while unguarded slipped away.

Both were sent up for murder in 1916.

DAWSON MAY BE DRY CHIEF.

Washington, June 4. — Charles I. Dawson, attorney general of Kentucky, is being mentioned in reports circulated about executive offices of the White House as a possibility for the appointment to succeed John F. Kramor, of Ohio, as federal prohibition commissioner.

BOEM GOES FREE ON

FORGERY CHARGE.

A. Boem, of South Ripley, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of forgery upon complaint that he had raised a check from $4.82 to $40.82, was freed by Judge Purnell upon his examination Monday morning. It developed that Boem had cashed the check in Ripley, Ohio, and shrewd lawyers suggested that if any crime had been committed it had been committed in the state of Ohio and the local court had no jurisdiction.

BROWNING-BUCKLEY.

Mr. George T. Buckley, and Mrs. Safrena Browning, both of this city, were quietly married late Saturday afternoon by Rev. J. J. Dickey at the parsonage of the "Little Brick Church." Following the ceremony they left for a bridal trip to New Richmond and Cincinnati, Ohio. They will return to Maysville Monday afternoon to make this city their home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Diener, Miss Amy King, Miss Ethel Sulser and Mrs. H. L. Walsh motored to Ft. Thomas Monday morning for a several days visit with friends.

Colonel C. L. Tannan, of Vanceburg, is in Maysville today on business and is incidentally boosting the Lewis County Fair for this year.

Dr. A. W. Taylor, of Mt. Carmel, was a business visitor in Maysville Monday and paid the Public Ledger a very pleasant call.

The Brotherhood Class of the Third Street M. E. church is going to entertain with a big "Men's Only" party Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Every present member and everyone who has ever been a member of the class is invited. Some big time is promised. The orchestra will be there, and so will Dave Cole's company of musicians. The social committee promise to "open up something" at this party. Members had better all be there for if you are not you are going to miss something you will want to kick yourself for missing. Ask Carr Politt if it "ain't so."

To an audience that, packed the church to its fullest capacity the children's department of the Third Street M. E. Sunday school presented as fine a program as has ever been given by this school that has a long record of successful Children's Day services. The whole program was given with announcement. The twelve musical numbers were sung from memory by the little folks, thus giving an effect that was unusually pleasing. It was a real "Summertime" program. Every song, recitation and exercise was of God's goodness as expressed with flowers. And the flowers were scarcely more beautiful than the children in their white dresses, garlanded with flowers. Then the decorations so artistically arranged by Mr. Walsh, gave an added effect to the scene, the large audience gave hearty approval and appreciation of the beautiful service. Miss Hurd and Mrs. East with Miss Richardson as accompanist have the credit of training the children, and to them thanks is due.

Charles Kennan, retired farmer, 81 Wood street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several different times within the last few years and never had them fail to do me good. My kidneys were in a mighty bad shape the first time I used them. The secretions I passed were bloody and burned terribly. My back kept me in misery during the time the attack lasted and I was feeling generally run down. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a couple boxes of them. This medicine reached my case at once and cured me up in good shape. I have always relied upon Doan's ever since. I use a few now and then to regulate my kidneys and they never fail me."

BECAUSE

Our Forefathers fought against Monopoly of Office, Kings, and Aristocracy. They gave the world the greatest government under the canopy of heaven. A government of equal rights to all and special privilege to none.

A country where men of merit, though in the ranks of the poor, could rise to the highest position. Eighteen consecutive years is a special privilege, a monopoly of office and condemned by the Men, who Made the Nation.
